

consider the dataframe df how would you access the element in the 2nd row and 1st column

- ☒ `df.ix[1,0]`
- ☐ `df.ix[2,1]`
- ☐ `df.ix[0,1]`

what method gets the unique elements of the following: `df['Length']`

☒ unique

☐ head

What is the result of applying the following method df.head(), to the dataframe df

- ☐ prints the first 100 row of the dataframe
- ☐ prints the first column of the dataframe
- ☒ prints the first 5 rows of the dataframe